m.BoxOffice for festivals and concerts

Sell at the gate. Scan at the door.

When a queue forms at the entrance, open extra points of sale with a modern, easy-to-use mobile box office. A dedicated professional handheld device sells and prints a ticket, then scans it at the door.

Team for a day

Several sellers can work the event at once. Each has their own cash-up and shift closing, so afterwards you know exactly how much each one sold.

Extras and festival merchandise

Promoters offer visitors an extra ticket, an upgrade or a package right where they are. m.BoxOffice also sells festival merchandise.

Same system as online sales

You never sell more tickets than are available, and all sales appear in the same reports.

Festival rental

Rent devices for a single event or a whole season. m.BoxOffice issues fiscal receipts.
